

CAMEROON

An unforgettable African experience

Cameroon, an African country on the gulf of guinea renowned for the famous Lord Derby Eland. The hunting in Cameroon is categorised into two main areas namely forest and savannah.

CONCESSION AREAS

The Hunting areas are located between the National Parks Boubandjida and La Benoue. In our forest areas, you can find an incredible number of bongos and forest sitatungas with the best quality trophies. Are you looking for outstanding forest elephant or the challenging dwarf buffalo? The Cameroon hunting concession have it all.

SAVANNAH

The savannah areas are located in the North of Cameroon, between the National Parks Boubandjida and La Benoue. You can expect to run into the famous Lord Derby Eland as well as a herd of elephants, Western roans, North West-ern buffalos and a lot of different antelope – species you can only find in very few countries throughout Africa!

RAIN FOREST

There are several forest camps: “Boumba” (North, South & West), “Lognia”, “Lokomo”, “Covaref” (1 & 6), which is bordering two National Parks, namely Boumba Bek and Lokomo in the Southeastern corner of the country.

ACCOMMODATION

The various concessions have well equipped camps ranging from VIP forest camps such as Boumba North which are regarded as the best for buffalo and more rustic camps. The accommodation promises to be comfortable. All camps are built in the style of traditional West African safari camps, with thatched huts, either round or rectangular - depending on the local building style, all with private bathroom and toilet, together with huts.

The outfitters have striven to build in attractive locations, either by a river, or on a good view point, so you can always observe the rich animal and bird around the camp. Catering is of a very high standard, and the atmosphere in camp is very relaxing. Occasionally you will spend a few days in a so-called fly-camp, if the hunt for a particular species is carried out far from one of the main camp
